3. REFERRAL TRACKING COOKIES

We track Referral sign-ups automatically by using cookies. The cookies are automatically placed in the browser of user who clicks on the Referral link in order to reach our website. Every cookie is stored for 90 days. If a previous Referral's cookie is already placed in the same user's browser it will be overwritten with the new cookie. If cookies are deleted intentionally by the user, BitDegree does not hold responsibility for this action.

4. REFERRAL TOKEN REWARDS

BitDegree gives you a token reward for every valid sign-up that you refer to our website. The sign-up is valid only if ALL of the following conditions are true:

1. The sign-up was made due to your Referral efforts and all of the following statements are true:
 1. At the time the sign-up was made, the referred client had an active cookie which indicated you as the last Referral who has referred the client to our website and the client hasn't reached BitDegree website through a search engine with a string that does not contain BitDegree name.
 2. At the time of the sign-up, your Referral account was active. No token rewards will be given for sign-ups that were made before you've registered for our Referral program.
2. Your referred client has not signed up for a Referral account with us before.
3. Each referred client earns you one stake. By the end of the Referral Program (December 29, 2017, or when the hard cap of token sale is reached) the worth of one stake will be determined. One stake's value will be calculated in the following method: one referred user equals one stake. If you referred 10 users who signed up via your Referral link, you earned 10 stakes. All stakes from all participants will be summed up. The token pool (200 000 BDG) will then be divided by the total amount of stakes. The result of the equation will define the value of one stake in tokens, for example: there is a total number of 1000 stakes, which means $1 \text{ stake} = 200\,000 \text{ tokens} / 1000 \text{ stakes} = 200 \text{ tokens}$.

Without providing any explanation or justification, BitDegree remains the right to mark any Referral token reward as invalid at our own discretion.

5. REWARD DISTRIBUTION

The pool of the BitDegree Referral program is 200 000 BDG tokens. The pool will be shared and transferred to all participants until January 15, 2018, based on the number of referred users.

In order to receive tokens each participant of the Referral program must hold an ERC20 compatible Ethereum wallet. BitDegree tokens will be transferred to the same wallet address that the participant will provide on the BitDegree website.

Your token reward may be suspended at any time and for any period if any fraudulent or improper activity of any kind is suspected or a potential violation of this Agreement by your referred clients or you is suspected.
